ENTRY IN WARLEGGAN PARISH REGISTER

MEMORANDUM. That I Daniel Baudris, Rector of Warleggan did on 29th Oct 1712 lease to Godfrey Wills of Warleggan to Richard Tippet of the Parish of Kenwen and to Thomas Dobb of the Parish of Lannevet, Tinnerns, to drive an adit through my furze ground to Treveda gate, reserving to myself and successors the 6th dish of tin which may be found within my precincts in driving of it as also the whole and sole right of the water that may or at any time hereafter happen to flow from it. And the said undertakers do oblige themselves as soon as the adit is home so sufficiently to cover the shafts which they dig my said furze ground that in the opinion of understandin people, cattle may go over them without danger.

The conditions and reservations of the above mentioned grant were acknowledged under the hands of the said undertakers, (provided that the said Dan Baudris shall at his own cost and charge take the levels of the adit within 3 foot of the inside of West Park and carry them down along).

Witnessed by : Godfrey Wills, Mary Baudris, Richard Tippet, William Gregor, Thomas Dobb, Peter Couch.

The water brought to the back door October 13 1713

Note – the final reference is to the watercourse that used to flow from Treveddoe Gate down to the Rectory through the Glebe fields.

MOUNT CHAPEL

At our recent Plant Sale we raised the tremendous amount of £1,139.30. Thanks to everyone for their wonderful support.

CHURCH UPDATE—BATS IN OUR BELFRY

If you are tempted to loiter around St Bartholomew's churchyard at dusk you may likely spot a number of Pipistrelles "foraging periodically". At some point you may encounter "a commuting flypast" of Greater Horseshoe bats, and in the church itself a resident population of Natterers (a phenomenon not exclusive either to bats or to churches one might suggest).

All these interesting observations have arisen from our Bat Survey commissioned in advance of the restoration work to St Bartholomew's tower and bell chamber.

It may just be that the seasonal breeding habits of the Natterers may cause a short delay in proceedings but this notwithstanding there is good progress all round. So far Viridor Credits, Garfield Weston Foundation and the Beatrice Laing Foundation have pledged between them over £110,000 towards a total project cost of c. £160,000. By careful management of the finances by Pat Phillipps over the years and thanks to the late Noel Watson's bequest and to everyone's tireless fundraising efforts we are now getting close to having raised the full figure. With luck the work might start before the end of the year and if so would likely be complete by Easter 2018.

Finally the church will be a dry and secure fabric fit for further centuries but our ambitions do not stop there. It is pretty clear that remote rural churches have little chance of surviving long term unless they are used continuously and often by the wider community for all sorts of community events, celebrations, exhibitions, concerts and their ilk. The church is the biggest public building in the parish and so has great potential for wider use, but it does need to be more conducive to comfort! Hence the need for improved lighting and heating and other facilities which are all being costed for further fundraising efforts.

WEEKLY VIEWS FROM THE FIELD

“life, red in tooth & claw”

10.5.17 The sheep continue to hog the limelight on the farm, with tail docking for the lambs, and foot trimming for the sheep taking place regularly. As ever, they proved to be reluctant participants, we had to recruit extra help to get them in the pen. The collie loves nothing more than a bunch of feisty sheep to round up, and with the added bonus of a few lively lambs she was in her element. We have set up a new handling pen, including a head trap for the sheep which holds them firmly in place allowing the shepherd to get on with essential maintenance. Hopefully they are all now in good working order and can be turned out into a big grassy field to happily eat, sleep and repeat for the coming weeks.

21.6.17 We have never witnessed such a collective sigh of relief as the one emitted from the sheep when they were sheared on Monday. The entire flock has been sauntering around in a state of complete undress ever since, and it's great to see them looking so happy and relaxed. Truth be told, there won't be many takers for the chance to wear a sheepskin rug all day in the current heatwave.

There is something timeless about these annual milestones in the farming calendar. The bleating flock of shorn ewes reuniting with their lambs, the smell of fleeces, and the solid weight of a wool sheet, tightly packed and stitched together is the same today as it was 40 years ago on my childhood farm in the Yorkshire Dales. We hope it will continue to mark the onset of our summer for many years to come.

PRODUCE SHOW & 'BIG DO'

We're counting down the days to this year's Big Do in the Field... Yes, on Saturday 29th July the field opposite the Jubilee Hall will be alive with children in fancy dress competing for prizes; dogs (and their owners) trying to win at the dog show; burgers being barbecued; faces being painted; games being played, races raced, wellies thrown, raffle prizes won, and a range of refreshments (cream teas, ice creams, etc.) consumed... Plus a surprise or two...

Meanwhile many of us will be bringing our home-cooked cakes, bread and preserves, our home-grown veg, and our photos, sketches and handicrafts, to compete in the annual Vegetable, Flower and Handicraft Show in the Jubilee Hall.

All at our little 'Big Do'. It's a great chance to catch up with old friends and make new ones. Do come along and enjoy yourselves, and at the same time help raise funds to keep our Village Hall going. You'll be made very welcome.

Free entry, free parking. All the latest information, along with schedules for the dog show and veg/flower/handicraft show, can be found at warleggan.net/bigdo2017, at Village Greens or call 01208 821223 or 821494. ALL ENTRY FORMS BY FRIDAY EVENING 28TH PLEASE

AN AFTERNOON AT THE COUNTY RECORDS OFFICE

We spent an afternoon at the County Records Office recently photographing various pages from our church records below is an extract for your interest.

WARLEGGAN WELCOMES THE PRINCE

In June 1921 Prince Edward was in the County and the following was reported in the Press.

"THE PRINCE AND THE HYMN Curious incident at Glynn

While the Prince was on his way from Newquay to Liskeard last week, he directed his course to Glynn, the residence of Lord Vivian, who invited the inhabitants of the adjoining parishes of Lanhydrock, Cardynham and Warleggon to come there to see him. The Warleggon church choir sang the following verse to the tune "God bless the Prince of Wales". The lines were specially written for the occasion by Mrs W J J Leggo, wife of the Rev. W J J Leggo, rector of Warleggon: -

*Come sing ye men and maidens,
Come sign ye girls and boys,
God bless the Duke of Cornwall,
And fill his life with joys.
Let all your voices echo,
Throughout the vale of Glynn,
And give him hearty welcome
From Cornish kith and kin.
Come sing ye men and maidens,
Come sign ye girls and boys,
God bless the Duke of Cornwall,
And fill his life with joys.*

The Duke, who expected the usual words, said in surprise, "Those are not the right words!" and on learning that they were specially composed, sent his personal thanks to the authoress and the choir."

It was also reported that George May, William Merritt and Heber Willcock, Ex-servicemen of this Parish were presented to His Royal Highness."
